Medical Examiner Dr. Louis I, Masen and Coroner Arthur G. Bill are to investigate the circumstances that led to the death of an infant born Thursday afternoon to Mary Eitlemann, at her rooming place, No. 103 Walnut street. The medical examiner and coroner were called to the the rooming bouse, following the finding of Mins Fittemann confined to her bed due to a hemorrhage, as Mins Eitlemann first contended. Later, under questioning she admitted giving birth to a baby but as it could not be found a search was made and the body of the infant was found in 2 bureau drawer bearing marks that pointed to strangling. The Eitlemann weman devied causing the death of ber child, but admitted under examination that the child was allve when born. Criminal action may follow if the coroner finds cause. The discovery of the case was made by Dr. C. E. Simonds who had been called in for the case by peoplé living in the house who had learned of the lines of Miss Ettlemann.

Douglas Fairbanks' chotoplay ver-of Alexander Dumas' blood stirring "The Three Musketeers," is scheduled as the feature attraction for May 8 3-10 at the Eradiey Theatre, Pulnam.

In this spectacular photo-feature, Fairbanks will be viewed in a new type of characterization. In the picturesque trapping of a seventeenth century chevaller, he is expected to give a sensationally desired. tionally dramatic interpretation to the role of D'Artagnan, washing Swordsman and adventurer. In fact in "Three Musketeera," the virile Doug is said to outdo his splendid acting of the dual role he played in "The Mark of Zorre." This photoplay represents one of the
